2025 – 2026

THE GRANGE SCHOOL

Art – Year 7

Key Learning Objectives	Making – to try out and develop new art skills. To develop confidence and skills when making art. To understand different ways of making art. Investigating – to develop ideas for art in different ways and for different types of art. To use a sketchbook to document ideas and experiments to a good standard. To understand how to research independently and select relevant information to improve skills and artwork. Knowledge – to learn about artists and how they make art. To develop the use of art vocabulary to express personal opinions and give reasons using key words. Experimenting – to explore different styles and media in art. To experiment with different processes and techniques and identify what suits individual learning styles.
Curriculum Content:
Autumn Term 1st Half	Introduction to Art – Formal Elements and Fish/Sea Project Making - learners will develop their observational drawing skills and review and develop their prior knowledge of the formal elements to create a range of studies of fish and imagery related to the Sea. Investigating - learners will develop their skills in researching a range of imagery that can be used to develop their own ideas. They will learn how to present their sketchbook to show their work clearly. Knowledge - learners will study the work of Vincent Scarpace and/or Peter Clark to develop their knowledge of how-to analysis the work of others. Experimenting - learners will experiment with and develop their skills in observational drawing and practice using techniques such as tonal shading and mark making effectively.
Autumn Term 2nd Half	Fish Project Making - learners will begin to explore colour and develop their making skills using collage techniques to create their own artworks. Investigating - learners will use their research work to develop their own designs for a collage of found and made papers/patterns. They will use the opinions of others and their own judgements to select their best ideas to develop further. Knowledge - learners will further develop their knowledge and art vocabulary when discussing the work of artists. They will look at the work of Peter Clark and /or Clare Youngs in detail to understand how and why different artist’s work. Experimenting - learners will develop confidence in using collage techniques and developing their making skills in different art disciplines. They will work in a graphic / illustrative style to create an outcome that is in the style of an artist.
Spring Term 1st Half	Fish Project Making - learners will develop their making skills through other art forms such as printmaking and /or ceramics. Investigating - learners will plan and create a range of ideas and possible outcomes in response to the artists they have looked at. Knowledge - learners will understand how to evaluate their work and the work of their peers to identify strengths and areas for development. Experimenting - learners will develop their practical skills through exploring and documenting printmaking and/or ceramic techniques and processes.
Spring Term 2nd Half	Still Life - Observational Drawing and Recording Making - learners will further develop skills / knowledge of observational drawing focusing on natural forms helping learners observe and reflect upon what they see. Learners will learn to draw with increasing accuracy in a range of media. Investigating – learners will continue to develop their practical skills with media such as watercolour paints, oil pastels, coloured pencils and/or marker pens. Knowledge - learners will look at artists that have explored the theme of still life through natural forms such as plants, flowers and/or fruit and how they have represented this theme. Building on prior learning and knowledge of analysing artwork.

	Experimenting – learners will experiment with new processes and techniques that can be applied to media such as watercolour paints, oil pastels and/or marker pens.
Summer Term 1st Half	Still Life - Observational Drawing and Recording Making - learners continue to develop skills and knowledge of observational drawing to explore further accuracy. They will build to explore other still life forms such as objects with a range of textures and surfaces to understand how these are represented visually. Investigating – learners will continue to develop their practical skills with media such as watercolour paints, oil pastels, coloured pencils and/or marker pens. Knowledge - learners will look at artists that have explored still life forms such as objects with a range of textures and surfaces to understand how they have interpreted this theme. Building on prior learning and knowledge of analysing artwork. Experimenting - learners will experiment with new processes and techniques that can be applied to media such as watercolour paints, oil pastels and/or marker pens.
Summer Term 2nd Half	Still Life - Observational Drawing and Recording Making – learners will create a response to the work of the artists they have analysed and researched using similar styles and techniques. Investigating -- learners will plan and create a range of ideas and possible outcomes in response to the artists they have looked at. Knowledge – learners will make short written notes to explain why they chose certain things, explain what and why these aspects influenced them. Experimenting- learners will explore different styles and approaches to making art. Learners will begin to identify which suit their learning style best.
Assessments	Students' work is assessed throughout the year using written and verbal feedback from teachers and self/peer assessment to review and assess their progress. Students are given termly skills assessments and end of project summative assessments that link to the Key Stage 3 Progress Objectives Grids. All Key Stage 3 students will have the Progress Objectives grid and a Sketchbook Guidance sheet in their books for reference.
Homework Structure	Homework is set once a half-term and it is expected that students spend approximately two hours on homework to ensure quality work is submitted. Homework is linked to the project of study during the term it is set in and have extension tasks to stretch and challenge learners.
School-based enrichment opportunities	Key Stage 3 Art clubs will run throughout the year after school. These will focus on a variety of skills, processes and techniques aimed to help students further develop their creative skills outside of lessons.
Resources available for home-based study	Key Stage 3 Art and Design - BBC Teach Google Arts & Culture Explore virtual galleries and look at high quality images of works of Art. Tate Kids Curriculum - Curriculum (continuityoak.org.uk) – a range of online art lessons that may help with developing and embedding techniques and concepts taught within school.

Key Learning Objectives	Making – to show an improved level of skill when making art and become more certain of what works well and is successful. To develop confidence in solving more complex art problems independently and make confident choices about which style of working suits ability and/or is the most suitable for the activity. Investigating – develop your imagination skills and your ability to record your ideas and thoughts in different ways. Present your ideas, rough art workings and investigations in the most effective manner. Develop increasingly complex ideas to invent, to imagine, to record ideas, for design, to express your thoughts, and show your opinions. Knowledge – to Learn about the meanings and techniques of art, learning art language to describe your thoughts and opinions of it. Discover and learn the techniques artists’ use, the ways they interpret their subject, and how they show meaning so that you can improve the way you make art. Experimenting – discover different approaches to making art, learn new skills, try new things, and make positive efforts to explore unknown ways of working. To use feedback, other’s opinions, and assessment to help you become a more confident artist.
Curriculum Content:
Autumn Term 1st Half	Architecture Project Making - learners will develop observational drawing techniques to record a range of architectural features and facades. Learners will develop their skills and knowledge of how to represent a range of tones and textures visually. Investigating - learners will develop their research skills to find a range of imagery that will help with developing their own ideas. Learners will start to develop their own style in how to present their sketchbook to show their work clearly. Knowledge - learners will continue to build on prior knowledge of art vocabulary and key words to help them analyse their work and artists’ work using writing and oracy skills. Learners will compare a range of processes and techniques used by artists/designers to help them to develop their own outcomes. Experimenting - learners will explore the styles of artists/designers and work in the style of them using similar or like for like media and techniques.
Autumn Term 2nd Half	Architecture Project Making - learners will record from secondary resources to develop studies using a range of dry and wet media including pen & wash, watercolour and mixed media. Investigating - learners annotate their practical, explaining what they are doing, and how it links with artists. Learners will also research other artists and designers that have used architecture as a theme or is an integral part of their art practice. Knowledge - learners will learn how to analyse artwork with real life meanings and subject matters of artists who use the theme of architecture to express messages and/or create art for a specific purpose work using writing and oracy skills. Experimenting - learners will investigate a range of techniques linked to architectural imagery used by contemporary and non-contemporary artists and designers.
Spring Term 1st Half	Architecture Project Making - learners will make an outcome that will draw upon all observations and research explored so far. Investigating - learners will use their research and their past investigations to plan and create a painting or mixed media outcome in response to the artists they have looked at. Knowledge - learners will use their knowledge of the artists they have written analysis on and compared the styles of to apply their own interpretations to their own outcomes work using writing and oracy skills. Experimenting – learners will select from a range of techniques and process using media from their investigations and tests from previous lessons to create final composition.

Spring Term 2nd Half	Surrealism – Ordinary/Extraordinary Project Making – learners will record from direct observation, and/or from secondary resources and create a range of photographic collages. Investigating - learners will collect a range of imagery and some will take their own photos to use within their project. Knowledge - learners will be introduced to a range of surrealist artists to understand the messages and meanings around the art movement of Surrealism work using writing and oracy skills. Experimenting – learners will experiment with collage techniques and/or drawing and painting techniques to explore composition and shape and form.
Summer Term 1st Half	Surrealism – Ordinary/Extraordinary Project Making - learners will develop their skills in being able to record accurately, using a range of materials with focus on the formal elements. Investigating - learners will investigate a range of techniques linked to the formal elements. Knowledge - learners will look in detail at work of artists, both historical and contemporary, and be able to analyse and critique their work using writing and oracy skills. Experimenting – learners will develop their skills in using media and techniques.
Summer Term 2nd Half	Surrealism – Ordinary/Extraordinary Project Making - learners will develop their making skills to produce an outcome that will demonstrate increasing skills and accuracy. Investigating - learners will investigate the styles of artwork they intend to make for their outcomes using a range of materials. Learners annotate their practical work explaining what they are doing, why, and how it links with artists. Knowledge - learners will identify and apply aspects of the artists’ work studied within the project in their outcomes. Experimenting – learners will make confident choices through evaluating their experiments with media to select processes and techniques that suit their learning style.
Assessments	Students’ work is assessed throughout the year using written and verbal feedback from teachers and self/peer assessment to review and assess their progress. Students are given termly skills assessments and end of project summative assessments that link to the Key Stage 3 Progress Objectives Grids. Art – Year 9

Key Learning Objectives	Making – to develop and improve skills when making art. To understand and work with the creative process, overcoming struggles and mistakes, working with instincts to explore and adapt art materials and processes. Investigating – to become more familiar with exploring and experimenting with art materials to find the best solutions to art intentions. To use a sketchbook to show planning for art activities, show confident, well-presented evidence of your ideas and become confident at using more complex meanings and messages when developing ideas for art. To be able to research information that is relevant to art themes and select the most appropriate parts of this to improve own artwork. Knowledge – to become more familiar with the meanings and techniques artists use, developing a more confident art language to describe thoughts and opinions of it. To be aware of and understand a wide range of art and cultural development from across time and from other cultures. Experimenting – to understand that the choice of materials or processes affects how outcomes look. To use clear and concise annotation justify creative decisions in ways that do not simply say what is obvious.
Curriculum Content:
Autumn Term 1st Half	Portraiture Project Making - learners will develop observational drawing techniques to record a range of face features and techniques in showing accurate proportions of the face. Learners will develop their skills and knowledge of how to represent a range of tones and textures visually. Investigating - learners will develop their research skills further to find a range of imagery that will help with developing their own ideas. Learners will further develop their own style in how to present their sketchbook to show their work clearly. Knowledge – learners start to show confident use of prior knowledge of art vocabulary and key words to help them analyse the work of artists using written and oracy skills. Learners will compare a range of processes and techniques used by artists/designers to help them to develop their own outcomes. Experimenting - learners will explore the styles of artists/designers and work in the style of them using similar or like for like media and techniques.
Autumn Term 2nd Half	Portraiture Project Making - learners will record from secondary resources to develop studies using a range of dry and wet media including Pen/Ink, watercolour and mixed media to develop skills and techniques. Investigating – learners will annotate their practical, explaining what they are doing, and how it links with artists. Learners will also research other artists and designers that have used portraiture as a theme or is an integral part of their art practice. Knowledge - learners will become more familiar with the meanings and techniques artists use, developing a more confident art language to describe their thoughts and opinions of it. Experimenting - learners will investigate a range of techniques linked to portraiture used by contemporary and non-contemporary artists and illustrators.
Spring Term 1st Half	Portraiture Project Making - learners will make an outcome that will draw upon all observations and research explored so far and learn to make art as longer, planned projects. Investigating - learners will use their research and their past investigations to plan and create a painting or mixed media outcome in response to the artists they have looked at. They will learn to use evaluation to adapt and alter their work as the process evolves. Knowledge - learners will use their knowledge of the artists they have written analysis on and compared the styles of to apply their own interpretations to their own outcomes work using writing and oracy skills. Experimenting – learners will select from a range of techniques and process using media from their investigations and tests from previous lessons to create final composition

Spring Term 2nd Half	Pop Art inspired Project Making - learners will record from direct observation, and/or from secondary resources on a range of pop art inspired themes such as food/packaging and or objects. Investigating - learners will investigate the themes and concepts behind Pop Art through their own research and develop their presentation skills within their sketchbooks. Knowledge - learners will Be aware of and understand a wide range of art and cultural development from across time and cultures. Experimenting - become more familiar with exploring and experimenting with a wider range of art materials to find the most effective solutions to their goals.
Summer Term 1st Half	Pop Art inspired Project Making - learners will record from secondary resources to develop studies from a choice of dry and wet media such as, watercolour/ acrylic paint, printing techniques and mixed media to develop skills and techniques in creating outcomes. Investigating - learners will investigate a range of techniques linked to the formal elements. They will use their research skills to look further into the art movement of Pop Art to better understand the meanings and messages. Knowledge - learners will become more familiar with the meanings and techniques artists use within the art movement of Pop Art Experimenting - learners will experiment with collage techniques and/or drawing and painting techniques to explore composition and shape and form.
Summer Term 2nd Half	Pop Art inspired Project Making - learners will develop their making skills to produce an outcome that will demonstrate increasing skills and accuracy. They will develop skills in making an outcome in 2D and/or 3D forms. Investigating - learners will investigate the styles of artwork they intend to make for their outcomes using a range of materials. Learners annotate their practical work explaining what they are doing, why, and how it links with artists. They will produce increasingly personal and skillful ideas for art in different ways. Knowledge - show evidence of being able to improve your own personal skills by identifying and studying the way artists made their art to improve their own techniques. They will identify and apply selected aspects of the artist's work studied within the project in their outcomes. Experimenting - learners will make confident choices through evaluating their experiments with media to select processes and techniques that suit their learning style. They will understand that the choice of materials or processes affects how the outcomes look.
